Welcome message

Welcome message

Welcome to 23rd SITE symposium!

On behalf of the entire Organising Committee, it is an absolute pleasure to be ready to conduct another edition of SITE for you.

After arduous hours of work, our Scientific and Educational Programme will update the most relevant unmet needs and share exciting practical experiences on endovascular techniques from world-class invited faculty. Three main blocks will fill two and a half days of the symposium: lower limb revascularisation, aortic repair and, for this year, we bring back venous disorders.

All delegates, engineers, physicians, nurses and industry representatives, will have the opportunity to interact with all the speakers during the discussion periods and also during the breaks. For young professionals, we offer different competition sessions and, new for this edition, we add an EVAR simulation area including a team competition.

We hope that all attendees will take advantage of the scientific programme and even have some extra time to enjoy the city of Barcelona, with its unique urban architecture.

With our best wishes,

The Organizing Committee

MedTech

The MedTech Europe Code of Ethical Business Practice regulates all aspects of the industry's relationship with Healthcare Professionals (HCPs) and Healthcare Organizations (HCOs), such as company-organized events, arrangements with consultants, research and financial support to medical education, amongst others. It also introduces an independent enforcement mechanism.

Such a Code is key as it aims at ensuring that all interactions between companies and Healthcare Professionals (HCPs) and Healthcare Organizations (HCOs), such as hospitals and clinics, are ethical and professional at all times, and beyond criticism to maintain the trust of regulators, and – most important of all – patients. MedTech Europe is committed to promote legitimate and ethical business practices, encouraging responsible and ethical interactions with HCPs and HCOs.

Both Endovascular Foundation (symposium organizer) and Doctaforum Medical Marketing Specialists (Technical Secretariat) are current Trusted Partners to the Ethical Charter of Ethical Medtech according with the MedTech Europe Code of Ethical Business Practice.

SITE Barcelona 2023 has been found COMPLIANT in accordance with the principles and standards set out in the MedTech Europe Code of Ethical Business Practice (event ref. EMT30286).

EACCME accreditation

Accreditation by the EACCME means that the CME/CPD activity provided is of high scientific value, is free of commercial bias and promotes active adult learning.

This is of paramount importance to doctors who need to report to their National Accreditation Authority on their CME/CPD activity over a certain period of time, and this even more now that many national systems are (becoming) mandatory and not voluntary.

As all 8 accredited events are published on the EACCME platform, doctors can easily find an EACCME accredited event to attend according to their field of interest.

By attending an EACCME accredited event, they will be able to obtain European CME credits (ECMEC) which are recognized not only in a majority of European countries (with which the EACCME has signed agreements), but also in the USA and Canada. By handing in their EACCME certificate to their National Accreditation Authority, their credits will automatically be recognized and converted into national credits.

23rd International Symposium on Endovascular Therapeutics (SITE Barcelona 2023), Barcelona, Spain, 05/10/2023-07/10/2023 has been granted 19 European CME credits (ECMEC®s) by the European Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (EACCME®).

Participants will be able to download the certificate from the website after the congress.

Certificate of attendance

Participants will be able to download the certificate from the website after the congress.
