

Innovation in Breast Cancer

iBC 2024

15th · 16th Feb
2024
VIRTUAL FORMAT

Angel L. Guerrero-Zotano

Instituto Valenciano de Oncología (IVO), Valencia, Spain

Dr. Guerrero currently work as breast oncologist at Instituto Valenciano de Oncología (Valencia, Spain). He graduated from the Autonomous University of Madrid and completed four-year training residence at Hospital la Fe (Valencia, Spain). Doctorate cum laude in Medicine from Valencia University. As part of his education, he has a master's degree in Molecular Oncology at CNIO (National Spanish Center for Oncology Research), and a master's degree in Epidemiology and Biostatistics by Autonomous University of Barcelona. He did a three-year fellowship in Vanderbilt University (Nashville. US), at Arteaga's Laboratory, studying mechanisms of resistance to endocrine therapy in breast cancer. He's member of Spanish Group of Investigation in Breast Cancer (GEICAM), coordinating translational research group. He's been awarded with the young investigator University of Padua Award for Advances in Breast Cancer. He is the author and co-author of more than 40 publications in national and international scientific journals.